Testimonials

"What a wonderful surprise! I thank MJ for giving my surge of confidence and professionalism. Her workshop was an amazing experience. Lunacy never sounded more inviting and adventurous." Elizabeth Cohen New Jersey

"I thought MJ's class was valuable; especially in some of the simple work sheets and voice placement exercises she provided early & later when she brought a "here's what you will go through trying to get a job" aspect into the exercises with the "auditions." Steven A. Young - NYC

"I had a blast in the class. MJ made everyone feel at ease and got us all fired up to do anything she asked. She was lovely and personable and brilliant. I could not be happier that I took the class." Dennis Mason- New Jersey

George was introduced to the world of voice-overs through a producer at the station, Howard Parker, who asked the station's engineer to help him build a home studio in New York City. From a handful of satisfied clients, George has now built a business that works solely with voice-over studios and clients.

Among his many successful clients are the late Don LaFontaine, Bill Ratner, Joe Cipriano and Scott Rummell. Client List

His extensive knowledge of computers, software, equipment, and troubleshooting abilities makes him a sought after expert and indispensable on-call technician. He is globally considered a top authority in voice-over recording technology. He has invested thousands of hours researching studio design, recording equipment, and creating training materials for voice actors. In so doing, he has also become an industry innovator by developing specialized services that cater exclusively to voice-over professionals.
